Rock and Roll, Swing Bands To Play for Winter Carnival

Two well-known musical groups will perform on the Hill this weekend for Winter Carnival according to Jack Watters, chairman of the Social Committee. Johnny and the Hurricanes will play in the Hall of Commons tonight from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., and Les Elgart and His Orchestra will perform at the formal dance in the gymnasium tomorrow night from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

In addition to the dinners and parties which will be given by each fraternity, this weekend's activities include a swimming match this afternoon at 4:30 and a basketball game tonight at 8, both against Harpur College, a hockey game against the University of Pennsylvania tomorrow at 3 p.m., and the snow sculpture and beauty contests.

Judges for the selection of a Queen of Winter Carnival are Dr. Robert Lundin, assistant professor of psychology; Mr. John L. Baldwin, Director of the Choir and of Root Art Center, and Rev. Jay Williams, Acting Dean of the Chapel. Each fraternity and the Independents should select one candidate tonight. The judging will take place in the Baker Memorial Room tomorrow morning at 10:30, and the winner will be announced at the formal dance tomorrow night.

As participants in the snow sculpture contest, the fraternities have each made a display based on the theme, The Theatre. The judges, who are Miss Corinna Melville, a member of the staff of the Library, Mrs. Donald Potter, and Dr. Frank Piano, assistant professor of French, examined the sculptures this afternoon. The winning house, which will be announced tonight during the basketball game, will receive a keg of beer.

Johnny and the Hurricanes, tonight's entertainers, are teenagers from the Toledo, Ohio, area. After appearing at school and college dances, the group became nationally famous when its first record, Crossfire, became a best-seller. The group has appeared on the television shows of Dick Clark and Alan Freed and is now making personal appearances. Johnny Paris, the leader of the group, will appear with Paul Tesluk, organist, Dave Yorko, guitarist, Butch Mattice, electric guitarist, and Don Staczek, drummer.

Les Elgart is a well-known trumpet player. After playing with the bands of Harry James, Charlie Spivak, Bunny Berigan, Hal McIntyre, and Woody Herman, he organized his own orchestra in 1947. His group first performed in the Hotel New Yorker. His original band included Bill Finegan, Ralph Flannagan, Nelson Riddle, and Lisa Kirk as vocalist. A ban on records and the draft caused the group to disband until 1953.

Elgart has performed on radio with Eddie Cantor and Connie Boswell and he appeared in the movie Wintertime with Sonja Henie. Known for his style of music called sophisticated swing, Elgart has recorded ten albums and 19 single discs for Columbia Records.

Hamilton Trustees Plan To Analyze Future of College

Mr. Clark H. Minor, '02, chairman of the Board of Trustees, announced at the last meeting of the Board the appointment of a special committee to study the future of Hamilton. The study group was organized as part of Hamilton's sesquicentennial celebration.

The members of the five man committee are Mr. Lloyd V. Almirall, '29; Mr. Walter Beinecke, Jr.; Mr. Richard W. Couper, '44; Mr. Frederic P. Lee, '15; and Mr. Hugh C. Riddleberger, '38. Couper was appointed chairman of the committee.

In an interview with the Spectator, President Robert W. McEwen said, "The trustees have given the committee no real directive except to determine what the future of the college is likely to be." The committee will try to determine what changes will take place at Hamilton within the next ten or twelve years.

The committee, which will begin its study this spring, will examine among other things the college's curriculum, fraternity system, and size. McEwen noted that the study is not directed toward another increase in Hamilton's population.

McEwen also announced that a six-man faculty committee will aid the Trustees in gathering information for its report. The members of this committee are Dr. Edwin B. Barrett, Dr. Thomas E. Colby, Dr. David M. Ellis, Dr. John H. Jacobson, Jr., Dr. Donald B. Potter, and Dr. James W. Ring. Ellis will chair the committee.

Alumnus To Give Morron Lecture; Conclude Series

The fourth and final Morron lecture for the year will be given on Mar. 4 by Rev. Benjamin J. Lake, '48. The topic for the lecture will be The Kingdom of the Blessed Redeemer.

Lake taught public speaking here during the year following his graduation. He continued his studies at the Union Theological Seminary in New York. From 1953 until 1957, Lake was pastor at the Palisades Presbyterian Church. He became associate pastor at the First Presbyterian Church in Rome in 1957 and remained there until 1961, when he became the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Cazenovia.

Lake also wrote a book in 1956 entitled The Story of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

NCAA To Hold Hockey Tournament At Utica Auditorium in Two Weeks

This year's NCAA hockey tournament, which will be co-sponsored by Colgate University and Hamilton College, will be held on March 15, 16, and 17 in the Utica Memorial Auditorium.

Mr. Mox A. Weber, professor of physical education at Hamilton, and Mr. Everett D. Barnes, director of athletics at Colgate, are co-chairmen of the tournament committee, which includes the hockey coaches of Hamilton and Colgate, the public relations directors of both schools, and the manager of the Utica auditorium.

The tournament's being held in Utica this year results from the efforts of the Greater Utica Convention Visitor's Bureau. At last year's convention of hockey coaches in Denver, members of the bureau made a successful bid for the tournament.

Since the NCAA's rules prohibit outside interests from making money on the hockey tournaments, the Utica Bureau cannot sponsor the tournament. Colgate and Hamilton offered to help Utica by sponsoring it.

In this year's tournament the two best teams in the East will play the two best teams in the West in the semi-finals. The two winning teams will then meet in the finals for the championship while the two losing teams from the semi-finals will play a consolation game.

The first semi-final game will be played at 8:15 p.m. on Thursday, Mar. 15. The second semi-final game will be played at the same time on Friday, Mar. 16. The consolation game, which will be played at 2 p.m. on Saturday, Mar. 17, will be followed by the championship game at 8:15 p.m. on the same day.

Immediately following the championship game, team and individual awards will be presented. Trophies will be awarded the first and second place teams, and plaques and silver medals will be presented to each member of the first and second place teams respectively. In addition, a committee appointed by the Executive Board of the AHCA will select a first and second all-tournament team plus the most valuable player in the tournament. The selection will be announced after the championship game.

NCAA policy permits radio broadcasting of the tournament by as many stations as can be accommodated. Live television rights will be granted on a competitive bid basis, but reception will be blacked out within a 100 mile radius of the auditorium. The NCAA also will permit delayed television coverage.

Weber announced recently that ticket sales to that date were encouraging. Revenue from these sales will pay for the rent of the auditorium and for traveling and miscellaneous expenses incurred by participating colleges and their teams. Remaining revenues will be divided equally between the NCAA and the competing teams.

Four Candidates Pass Examination

Four of the five Hamilton students who took the recent entrance examination for the foreign service have passed the test, Dr. Channing B. Richardson, associate professor of government, announced this week. He noted that the percentage of men who passed the test "far surpassed the national average."

Richardson also announced a change in the date of the next entrance exam for the foreign service. The test will be given in September of 1962 rather than in December.

Humor Issue

The Spectator published this week its annual humor issue. It will be distributed to fraternity houses tomorrow morning.

Bonta Lecture —

Music Instructor Gives Talk

—by AL RODEWALD

Mr. Stephen Bonta, instructor in music, delivered a lecture entitled Expectation in Music on Monday, Feb. 19, at 8 p.m. in the Root Art Center.

Bonta began by examining the conditions in verbal communication which cause expectation in the listener. He cited a pre-school boy who used to recite:

Ding dong dell,
Pussy's in the .....

The phrase is irritating, Bonta noted, because it so strongly suggests the word "well." The very strong expectations of the listener have been frustrated. Bonta remarked that, as the phrases progressed, the expectation became more defined and exact until the listener had to hear the word "well."

Bonta noted that in music as well as in literature, complete predictability is condemned. The rhyme:

Ding dong dell,
Pussy's in the well

is completely predictable and is a commonplace. On the other hand, the words:

Ding dong dell,
Pussy's in the padded cell surprise us. The goal which we expect here, or the hypothetical goal, is nothing like the real goal. The hypothetical meaning changes rather suddenly.

Music, Bonta said, is a communication system which uses non-verbal means. He noted that musical symbols are not necessarily referential, although people have read external referents into many types of music. Bonta explained that he would consider how musical communication was affected, rather than what was communicated. The musical process, he said, was the gradual definition of hypothetical goals.

He remarked that a single note, like a single word, arouses few expectations at a goal, but as other notes and phrases are introduced, some goals are eliminated and others are strongly suggested.

The speaker then illustrated this point on the piano. He showed that certain harmonic progressions suggest other specific harmonies. Hypothetical harmonic goals, he noted, can be obscured by the introduction of other goals. The real goal often can have almost no relation to the original hypothetical goal, and yet it can be reached quite smoothly through the suggestion of intervening goals.

Bonta said that the withholding of harmonic goals in music produces as much frustration as does the withholding of the word "well" in the nursery rhyme. He noted that Wagner expresses the yearning of the lovers in Tristan und Isolde by introducing them with a motive which does not reach a harmonic goal until the lovers are united in death three hours later.

The speaker remarked that our knowledge of the historical and national styles within which a composer worked, as well as our knowledge of the other works of the composer, help to increase our expectation and our enjoyment of a work. He attributed the difficulty in understanding contemporary composers to our lack of such knowledge.

Bonta then illustrated the way in which a composer creates expectation by suggesting goals. He played his own version of the adagio Ma non Troppo of Mozart's Quintette in G Minor, K. 516.

He then played a recording of the actual slow movement. He made clear how Mozart had played upon our sensibilities by deviating from the commonplace and by introducing varying degrees of expectation and frustration.

Bonta related expectation to the history of music by noting that familiarity with the deviations used by a composer causes a change in musical style. A new style will use as its norm the deviations from an earlier style.

In conclusion, Bonta remarked that he had analyzed the emotion and meaning in music without having resorted to a discussion of musical referents. He said that Mozart, Haydn, Brahms, and Bach communicated effectively without making extra-musical references. The only meaning which we can safely infer from their music is the embodied musical meaning, according to Bonta. To understand the correct meaning of a work, we must study the other works of the composer and the historical style within which he worked.

QUOTATION OF THE WEEK

Porter. 'Faith, sir, we were carousing till the second cock. And drink, sir, is a great provoker of three things.

Macduff. What three things does drink especially provoke?

Porter. Marry, sir, nose-painting, sleep, and urine. Lechery, sir, it provokes, and unprovokes; it provokes the desire but it takes away the performance; therefore, much drink may be said to be an equivocator with lechery: it makes him, and it mars him; it sets him on, and it takes him off; it persuades him, and disheartens him; makes him stand to, and not stand to; in conclusion, equivocates him in a sleep, and giving him the lie, leaves him.

Alumni Council Makes Nominations To College's Board of Trustees

Hamilton's Alumni Council nominated two men to the Board of Trustees at its meeting on Saturday, Feb. 10. Dr. Robert W. McEwen, president of the College, announced Monday. Mr. Vincent S. Jones, '28, and Mr. William A. Woodcock, '32, will replace Mr. Harlan F. Calkins and Mr Kenneth W. Watters, whose terms will expire on July 1, 1962.

Jones was a member of Psi U fraternity and of Pi Delta Epsilon. After graduating from Hamilton, he studied English at Harvard's Graduate School. He was executive editor of the Utica Observer Dispatch and of the Utica Daily Press. He presently lives in Rochester, New York, and is executive editor of the Gannett Company, Inc., which publishes newspapers in upstate New York.

Woodcock was a member of Psi U and of Phi Beta Kappa. He lives in Huntington, New York, and is vice-president of Union Carbide International Company.

McEwen explained that the Board is composed of sixteen charter trustees who are elected by the Board and twelve alumni trustees who are nominated to the Board by the Council. Two men are nominated by the Council each year for a single term of six years.

McEwen added that plans for Commencement were also discussed at the meeting.

Chief Logistician Of Peace Corps To Visit Hamilton

Mr. Harold H. Flickinger, Chief Logistician of the Peace Corps, will visit Hamilton on Mar. 2 to talk to all students interested in joining the Peace Corps. Students may talk with him from 2-5 p.m. in the gym library.

The Peace Corps was only an idea about a year ago, but today approximately 730 Peace Corpsmen are serving overseas. They are located in ten countries around the world, and they participate in projects ranging from teaching to road building. The volunteers were trained with the cooperation of 14 colleges and universities in the United States, three private organizations, and 15 foreign educational institutions.

Although it has 17,000 applications now on file, the corps needs more applicants because the demand for volunteers is still greater than the supply. The Peace Corps needs volunteers to serve in agricultural work, the demonstration and teaching of home crafts and industries, the teaching of carpentry, the establishment of educational systems and children's recreation and the teaching of home economics. Qualified applicants may also serve as doctors, civil engineers, geologists, hydrologists, teachers, nurses, mechanics, librarians, bricklayers, and sanitary engineers.

Volunteers can frequently acquire the necessary levels of skill by participating in the training programs which are conducted by the Peace Corps.

Hill Choir To Give Concerts At Three Schools Next Month

Hamilton's Choir and Brass Choir will make a concert tour to three different schools during the first weekend in March, according ot Phil Hineline, concert manager of the Choir.

Hineline noted that the group will leave the Hill at 7:30 a.m. on Friday, Mar. 2. The Choir will arrive at Pingry School, a prep school in Elizabeth, New Jersey, in time for lunch. During the early afternoon, the Choir and Brass Choir will perform a concert of sacred and secular music.

After leaving Pingry School, the Choir will travel to Beaver College in Jenkintown, Pennsylvania, and will arrive there late in the afternoon. After supper, the Choir will sing Bach's Magnificat! with Beaver's Choir. Hamilton's Choir and Brass Choir will also perform a number of works alone. There will probably be a party after the concert, Hineline added.

The group will leave Jenkintown on Saturday morning and will arrive at Sweet Briar College in Sweet Briar, Virginia, in the late afternoon. The choirs from both schools will rehearse that evening. On Sunday afternoon, the Choir will perform at a concert similar to the one which will be given at Beaver College.

The group should return to the Hill in time for classes on Monday morning.

Placement Schedule

The following companies will send representatives to the Hill during the week of February 26. Interested students must sign up in the Alumni Office at least two days prior to the scheduled interview.

Monday, Feb. 26 — Liberty Mutual Insurance Co., 9 a.m. to 4p. m. — Baker Room.

Social Security Administration (Testing for those interviewed February 8), 1 p.m., Conference Room, Hall of Commons.

Tuesday, Feb. 27 — Insurance Company of North America, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Baker Room.

Wednesday, Feb. 28 — Federal Reserve Bank of New York, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Baker Room.

Commercial Union — North British Group Insurance, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Conference Room, Hall of Commons.

Thursday, Mar. 1 — New York Life Insurance Co. (Actuarial), 1 to 4 p.m., Baker Room. Also interviewing sophomores and juniors for summer employment.

Friday, Mar. 2 — Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co., 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Baker Room.

U. S. Civil Service Commission, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Conference Room, Hall of Commons.

Geology Specialist To Visit Campus For Three Days

Dr. Gordon Rittenhouse, a specialist in the principals of deposition of sedimentary rocks, will visit Hamilton for a three-day period beginning Feb. 28, Prof. David Hawley, chairman of the department of geology, announced this week.

Dr. Rittenhouse is a geological consultant for the Shell Oil Company Research Laboratory in Houston, Texas. Rittenhouse, who has received three degrees from the University of Chicago, received his Ph.D. in 1935. He has worked as a geologist for the Soil Conservation Service, the United States Geological Survey, and the Exploration Department of the Shell Oil Company in Oklahoma and Colorado. He has been a consultant for Shell Oil since 1958.

On Wednesday, Feb. 28, at 8 p.m., in Science 109, Rittenhouse will lecture on Some Principals of Sediment Transportation and Deposition. This lecture, Hawley noted, will be intended primarily for geology students. At 8 a.m. on Thursday, Rittenhouse will discuss Geometry of Sandstone Bodies. From 1-4 p.m. on Thursday, Rittenhouse will talk with students and will answer their questions. At 4:15 p.m., he will speak on Pore-space Reduction in Sandstones.

At 8 p.m., in the Chemistry auditorium, he will lecture on Geology in the Petroleum Industry. This talk, Hawley said, should be of interest to the entire College community.

Rittenhouse will conclude his stay when he speaks to two additional geology classes at 9 a.m. and 10 a.m. on Friday.

Rookie of the Year

Jeannot Gilbert, 21-year old center on the Clinton Comets, has been named Eastern Hockey League Rookie of the Year by a vote of the coaches in the eight team league. In 61 games with the Comets, Gilbert has scored 35 goals and assisted on 44 others for a point total of 79, the fourth highest on his team.

JUST NO STORIES

WHO HOWCUM'S HOUSEPARTY DATE

by John Nichols

The story of Who Howcum last year before and during our winter houseparties is just about the saddest story which has ever occurred at our college.

It all started about two weeks before the weekend, when Who's loyal girl-friend, Mildred Arguway, whote a letter to this effect:

Dear Who,
I'm very sorry I can't come to your winter houseparties because my grades are getting pretty bad and I got to study.
Mildred

Well, Who moped around for a few days until Tart Wuffle said, "Look at you, Who! You're big and strong. You're a natural athlete. Nine letters you got in high-school! You're the brightest kid in our class. What is a ladie's man like you doing without a date?"

Who said he didn't really know, perhaps he was a little out of date or something, so Tart called up an actress friend of his and told her Who's problem, and naturally she said "Who's Who?" and gave him a great big belly laugh and hung up.

Who moped some more until Johnny Cozzalipinikki said he had this friend who had a friend who would be just right for Who, a great girl, president of her class, and all the girls really loved her, so he wrote, and she wrote, and Who wrote, and there he was with a date.

Until the phone rang Wednesday before houseparties and this female voice said:

"Is Johnny Cozzalipinikki there?" And since he wasn't there, Lem Egg, the dorm janitor took a note and posted it on Who Howcum's door.

Who Howcum
thair wuz call for you. Pliz don't kownt on no date. She is gotten the meezuls.
Lem

Who honked a bit and moped some more and went down to Fauntleroy Duke's Musical Bar and had a couple of Skizzy Uptons, and decided to call this girl that he knew in London, but Duke caught him jamming a coathanger up the coin slot, and hustled him over to Mort Empathy, the sheriff.

Mort said that he could see how a thing like this might happen, what with all those Skizzy Uptons and whatnot, but he threw Who into a cell anyway, and who should be in that very cell but Lacy Carmicheal, and who is Lacy Carmicheal but the most beautiful girl in the Village, and what is she doing there but writing a term paper on jails and gathering first hand information, and in less than three minutes Who had a date.

Naturally, Friday afternoon Lacy called and said that she had this awful boil developing somewheres and was very sorry about all that but she couldn't come.

That's when Pink Gargle came along and said,

"Who, how come?"

And Who said,

"I really don't know."

And Pink said, after a moment's quiet reflection,

"Listen, I have just the girl for you!"

And Who said,

"Who?"

And Pink said,

"Grace Limphatic!"

And Who said,

"Who's Grace Limphatic?"

And Ping said,

"Could be, if you let me call her."

So Pink called and Grace accepted and Who clicked his heels in a spontaneous show of emotion and that was that.

Grace arrived and boy! was she ever beautiful. Who clicked his heels again and then they began to talk.

Which was a mistake.

Grace was smart. Too smart, in fact. So smart that Who had a hard time getting any lower than the Van Allen radiation belt for conversation and it didn't look as if there was going to be much action. But with a body and a face like that, Who hung on until he could bear it no longer.

Then he stopped talking altogether.

"How come?" Grace asked.

"Look," said Who. "You are very beautiful and very very intelligent, but despite all of your obvious attributes, I just can't be intelligent or knowledgeable any longer. In fact, you make me sick!"

"Are you leaving me?" she asked.

"I'm leaving you," Who said.

And he left and went down to Duke's and had three Skizzy Uptons and spent the night explaining to Mort Empathy why he had to throw a pizza through the juke box.

And in the end, we all agreed that this was definitely a case of a guy who cut off his knows despite his Grace.

Track Team Loses To Rochester

In the first meet of its winter season, Hamilton's track team lost to the University of Rochester by a score of 52-42 last Saturday, Feb. 17. Rochester had defeated Ithaca College in a meet earlier this month.

Ulie Schaub led Hamilton's squad as he set a new field house record in the 60-yard dash. Schaub ran the distance in six and three-tenths seconds. Hamilton's Ed Taft finished the event close behind Schaub.

The Continentals easily won the shot put event. Jay Welsh, Jack Messersmith, and Morefe Obele finished first, second, and third in the event.

Hamilton's Phil Hineline won the two mile run with a time of 10:25.7.

Pete Bowles pole-vaulted ten feet, six inches during the meet. The meet provided him with his first opportunity to practice this season.

The Continentals are now preparing for the Union Invitational Meet, which will be held next month.

Shot Put: Welsh (H), Messersmith (H), Obele (H) — 41', 8½".

Mile run: Oyer (R), Muir (R), King (H) — 4:50.

60-yard dash: Schaub (H), Taft (H), Good (R) — 6.3.

High jump: Clark (R), McCouch (H), and Beggs (R), tie — 6'1".

600-yard run: Hayes (R), Graham (R), Graber (R) — 1:15.2.

60-yard high hurdles: Boggs (H), Bawford (R) — 8.5.

2-mile run: Hineline (H), Harris (R), Morgan (H) — 10:25.7.

1,000-yard run: Payson (R), Oyer (R), Abrams (H) — 2:28.

Mile relay: Rochester — 3:55.9.

Broad jump: Taft (H), Schaub (H), Cullen (R) — 21' 1½".

College Debaters Oppose Rochester, To Begin Season

Hamilton's Debate Club sent teams to two tournaments last week as it began its spring schedule, according to Bob Collings, president of the club.

The first team traveled to the University of Rochester and debated the topic, Resolved: That the labor organizations should be under the jurisdiction of anti-trust legislation. The team, which won 4 out of 8 debates, consisted of Tom Nassau, Stu Masters, Phil Webb, and Jeff Kremen. The group finished ahead of teams from the University of Buffalo, the University of Rochester, Canisius College and Brockport State Teachers. Mr. A. James Arnold, instructor in French, accompanied the group.

The second team went to McGill University, where it debated the topic, Resolved: That the Western Alliance should pursue a policy of strength and firmness in the face of world Communism. This group, which was composed of Lorin Nathan, Justin Kahn, Terry Flora, and Jim Schleifer, defeated the Royal Military College, College Militaire Royale, and Hofstra College. Mr. Karl C. Gregg, instructor in Spanish, accompanied the team.

Basketball Team Wins Two Games By Wide Margins

Hamilton's basketball team will seek its third consecutive victory tonight when it hosts Harpur College at 8 p.m. in the Alumni gymnasium.

The Continentals last week defeated Utica, 92-67, and Hobart, 90-48. The games marked the first time this year that Hamilton has been able to score back-to-back victories. The Continentals now have a 6-9 record and have two games remaining on their schedule.

Last year, Hamilton defeated Harpur by a score of 81-66 while it was compiling a 12-3 record. Harpur posted an 11-7 record last year. Jim Davis, a six-foot, three-inch forward, led Harpur in scoring last year with a 22.9 point average, and he is again this year their leading scorer.

Hamilton's Warren Palmer may join the select 1000-point club during tonight's game. In three years, he has scored 985 points, and he needs to score only 15 points against Harpur to reach the mark. This point total will probably set a scoring record for Hamilton.

Last Saturday, Palmer scored 36 points against Utica College and broke Hamilton's record, which he had set two years ago, for points scored in a single game. Against the Pioneers, Palmer shot 62 percent from the floor as he completed 16 of 26 shots. He scored 21 points in the first half as he completed 9 of 12 field goal attempts.

Palmer received assistance in scoring during the Utica contest from Dave Davidson and Don Sweeney. Davidson scored 15 points and Sweeney 11. A total of ten Continentals contributed to their team's score as Hamilton topped 90 points for the second consecutive game. Palmer took 13 rebounds, and Davidson had 11.

Control of the backboard could be decisive in tonight's game, according to Ken Patrick, Hamilton's coach. He cited his team's lack of rebounding as a main deficiency in the game against Utica. Patrick expects that Davidson and John Fredenburg may be able to supply the needed strength.

Hamilton's starting lineup for tonight's game will probably include Fredenburg at center, Davidson and Sweeney at forward positions, and Palmer and John Elliott at guard. Other members of the team who may participate include Gary Ferraro, Jack Moore, Dick Salisbury, and Carl Hayden.

Wooster Organist To Give Concert In College Chapel

Dr. Jack Carruth, assistant professor of music at Wooster College, Ohio, will give an organ recital in the Chapel on Wednesday, Feb. 28, at 8 p.m.

Carruth has given recitals at the National Cathedral in Washington, D. C., St. Thomas' Church and St. Paul's Chapel, New York City, the University of California at Berkeley, the Toledo Art Museum, and the Universities of Valparaiso, Syracuse, Cornell, and Michigan.

He recently earned the degree of Doctor of Musical Arts at the University of Michigan.

Born in Hornell, New York, Carruth later lived in Hamburg. He studied at the Eastman School of Music in Rochester and then entered the Navy V-12 program at Cornell. He began his study of the organ with Squire Haskins at the University of Buffalo and has also studied with Professors Grout and Gore at Cornell. Carruth has served as the organist at St. John's Episcopal Church, Buffalo, and at Park Central Church, Syracuse.

HOCKEY TEAM — A member of Hamilton's hockey team skates past the goal in last weekend's game, in which the Continentals defeated Amherst, 6-0, for their first win of the season. The team faces the University of Pennsylvania tomorrow at 3.

Hockey Team Beats Amherst, 6-0; To Face Pennsylvania Tomorrow

by Bruce Rockwell

Hamilton's hockey team, which will meet the University of Pennsylvania tomorrow afternoon at 3 in the Sage Rink, won its first game of the season by defeating Amherst last Saturday by a score of 6-0. The Continentals stopped a ten game losing streak. The Continentals then met Cornell last Wednesday night on Cornell ice and lost their eleventh game. The score of that contest was 6-1.

In defeating Amherst, Coach Greg Batt's sextet recorded many seasonal firsts. It was the first win of the season for the Hill skaters; it was the first time this year that the hockey team has scored more than two goals in a game; it was the first time this season that our team has shut out an opponent; and it was the first time this year that a Hamilton player has scored a hat trick.

Hamilton broke into the scoring column at 9:15 of the first period, when Rad Pearsall, assisted by Bill Cranz and George Wiltshire, scored a goal. The Continentals, keeping pressure on Stringer, Amherst's goalie, throughout the first period, forced him to make 16 saves.

John Nichols opened the scoring in the second period with a goal at 1:37. He was assisted by Jon Kinne. Bill Cranz put Hamilton ahead by a 3-0 margin with a goal at 10:54. Pat McDonnell had the assist on this goal.

At 11:30 Cranz, assisted by Pearsall and Wiltshire, scored his second goal of the day. Amherst's defense was completely overpowered by the aggressive attack of Batt's skaters. Stringer made 36 saves in this period, while Ted Marks made only three.

Hamilton continued its aggressive attack on the Amherst goal. Nichols scored his second goal from McDonnell and Kinne, and completed his hat trick with an unassisted goal at 18:46.

Nichol's hat trick marked his first three goals of the season and his second hat trick in two years. Once again Stringer was kept busy, making 23 saves, while Hamilton's goalies made only five in the final period. Holmes Brown, who made his first appearance in the cage this season, tended the goal for the second half of the third period.

While Marks made six saves and Brown made four, Amherst's goalie was called upon to make 75 saves during the game.

According to Batt, the University of Pennsylvania's hockey team should provide "keen opposition" for tomorrow's game which begins at 3 p.m. He noted that the Penn team, coached by John Cleveland, is rapidly becoming a more recognized team in the University's sports program.

Cleveland's team plays a schedule which includes Colgate, Cornell, Williams, Army, MIT, Bowdoin. Batt feels that Penn is stronger than in past years and probably better than Amherst.

The starting lineup for Hamilton will be Marks in the goal, Kinne at center, Nichols and Jim Price at the wing positions, and McDonnell and John Cookman on defense. Wiltshire, Pearsall, and Cranz will make up the second line, and Blake, Fleischer, and Jones will skate on the third line. Tony Woodin is the third defenseman, and Holmes Brown is the second goalie.

College Ski Team Finishes Second In Cortland Meet

Hamilton's ski team will participate tomorrow in the Winter Carnival meet at Syracuse University. The major event of the meet will be a giant slalom.

Last Saturday, the Continentals competed with four other schools in a meet at Cortland. Hamilton placed second behind Syracuse. Other competing teams included Cortland, Cornell, and Colgate. The two events in the meet were the slalom and the giant slalom. Continentals who participated in the meet were Eric Swenson, Gault Farrell, Al Christie, Chris Lovell, and Carl Smith.

Hamilton Swimmers Meet Harpur Here

Despite Coach Bob Beaudry's predictions that Union would be a tough opponent, Hamilton's swimming team had little trouble in defeating the Dutchmen on Wednesday by a score of 65-30 to maintain its undefeated record. Since Cortland also lost to the Continentals last week, only Harpur this afternoon can keep Hamilton's swimmers from their first undefeated season.

In winning the Cortland meet, the Continentals set five records. Co-captain Bob Warner set Cortland Pool records in both the 50 and 100-yard freestyle events. He also combined with Tom Lightbown, Shep Evans, and co-captain Jerry Jones to set a pool record in the 400-yard freestyle relay.

Two Hamilton records fell when the 400-yard medley relay team opened with a record-breaking effort and when Stu Sterling swam to a record victory in the 200-yard breaststroke. Cortland was able to win only two of the eleven events.

The victory over Union at the Alumni Pool, by an identical 65-30 score, was achieved with the aid of seven new pool and school marks. The 400-yard medley relay team of Stebbins, Sterling, Gottlieb and Lightbown opened the meet with a new pool record. Jerry Jones then set a new pool and school record in the 220-yard freestyle.

Bob Warner again was a double winner, but he missed new records in both the 50 and 100-yard freestyles by a few tenths of a second.

Lightbown, Warner, Goyert and Jones teamed up to establish a new pool and school record in the 400-yard freestyle relay, and Union's Tom Grant had to set a new pool record in the 200-yard breaststroke to defeat Stu Sterling. Dick Stebbins and Woody Walls added victories to give Hamilton an impressive margin.

Perhaps one of the most astounding performances of the year was the victory of Gary Cramer in the 200-yard butterfly event. Although he had not been able to swim all week because of illness, Cramer swam to a new pool and school record. In doing so, he erased the record he had set a week before at Rochester by three full seconds. Also notable was Chris Vickery's third straight win in diving competition.

The Continentals complete the season this afternoon against Harpur. If they emerge victorious, they will be the first unbeaten Hill swimming team in history.

If the first Harpur meet this season is any indication, the Continentals should have no trouble in repeating their victory.

Senate Endorses Clearing House, Cost Sheets

At the Student Senate meeting on Monday night, Gary Ferraro, chairman of the Rushing Committee, led a discussion reviewing the innovations which the committee used in this year's rushing system.

The Senate first discussed the telephone clearing house set up by the committee. Ferraro noted that over 95 percent of the freshmen who made tentative decisions on Sunday stayed with their decisions. He added that the clearing house might have helped to reduce the number of freshmen in the executive session. No one on the Senate objected to its continuation next year.

Ferraro then asked the Senate for its opinion of the value of the statement of fraternity costs published by the Rushing Committee. Dick Fetter, president of the freshman class, said that his classmates found it useful.

Ed Kenney said that it did not give an accurate picture of costs, because hidden costs were not shown. Ferraro noted that the committee warned freshmen that the statement was not complete and that they should use it as a guide to discovering the costs of joining a house rather than as a final statement of those costs.

After the Senate recommended the publication of a similar cost statement next year, Ferraro described the procedure used in this year's executive session. Nevett Steele, although he personally favored a different procedure, recommended the incorporation of this year's into the rules. He noted that it had worked well and that it was important to make the procedure consistent.

The Senate requested the Rushing Committee to prepare an amendment to the rushing rules codifying the procedure in the executive session. It also requested the committee to prepare an amendment prohibiting upperclassmen from entering other fraternity houses during the formal rushing period.

The Senate also discussed the merits of immediate and deferred rushing. Several members favored deferral, and a resolution for immediate rushing was not presented.

In addition, the Senate asked the Rushing Committee to study the possibility of permitting freshmen to enter fraternities at specified times before formal rushing. Carl Hayden also asked if the rule concerning off-hill rushing parties during the first semester could not be more clearly stated.

Senate Sets Date For Nominations

At the Student Senate meeting on Monday night, President Jack Moore announced that nominations for the office of president of the Student Senate for the year 1962-1963 must be submitted to the Senate at its next meeting on Mar. 5.

Moore said that the election will be conducted by Lyon Fisher, chairman of the Elections Committee, and that the Senate must nominate at least six candidates, all of whom shall be juniors.

In other business, the Senate defeated a motion to make house presidents members of the Senate. Nevett Steele felt that this policy would cause an unnecessary amount of work for the house presidents.

Dick Fetter presented a charter for a Hamilton College chess club, which has been organized by Harry Kopp and Marty Barringer. After establishing the fact that this club did not require a budget, the Senate accepted its charter unanimously.

Moore announced that the next meeting of the Senate would be held on Mar. 5 at 8 p.m.
